DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims ^{group} 1,1-6,18-23 in the reply filed on October 22, 2007 is acknowledged.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.
3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-6,18-23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tosaya et al (6487531).

As per claim 1, Tosaya et al (6487531) teaches accepting speech from a user that extracts glottal source parameters, formants (Fig. 4, subblock 56; col. 11 lines 5-17; col. 11 lines 45-60); and an output communicating the result of the decision (as performing speaker verification – col. 11 lines 50-59)

As per claims 2-4, Tosaya et al (6487531) teaches glottal source parameters including spectral, voicing content, and noise (Tosaya addresses this issue of varying types of possible input speech, ranging from noise col. 8 lines 25-30; col. 10 line 64 – col. 11 line 20) with using glottal information to determine/model the input speech, and performing a comparison to the input speech 9col. 11 lines 50-59).

As per claims 5,6, Tosaya et al (6487531) teaches driving the excitations using phase fluctuating/shifting parameters, as well as harmonic/subharmonic driven excitation models (col. 11 lines 4-20).

Art Unit: 2626

Claims 18-23 are method step claims that are implemented in the apparatus claims of claims 1-6; as such, claims 18-23 are similar in scope and content to claims 1-6, and are therefore rejected under similar rationale as presented above with respect to claims 1-6.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Please see related art listed on the PTO-892 form.
